Harley Sadler Will Be Master of Ceremonies At Civic Meeting; Henry W. Stanley to Talk

Harley Sadler, formerly of Sweetwater, but now of Abilene, widely known as an entertainer and after-dinner speaker, was selected as master of ceremonies for the annual Hamlin Chamber of Commerce banquet, in the Elementary school cafeteria Thursday evening.

Entertainment on the program, preceding the speaker of the evening, will be provided by the Girls' Sextet from Abilene Christian College.

Promoters of the annual banquet were preparing this week for an attendance of approximately 400. Reports from the ticket committee Wednesday said that a few tickets remained unsold, but many requests were being made for places at the event.

Numerous out of town guests were expected to attend from Abilene, Anson, Stamford, Haskell and other nearby cities and towns, Mrs. Wilson said.

The complete program, as worked out for the banquet, follows: Harley Sadler, master of ceremonies; Rev. H. L. Smith, pastor of the Nazarene Church, invocation; dinner; J. C. Turner Jr., introduction of guests; Girls' Sextet, songs; J. C. Turner Jr., introduction of officers and directors; Henry W. Stanley, San Antonio, address.

Stanley is manager of the wholesale and manufacturers department of the San Antonio Chamber of Commerce.

Recently inducted officers of the club, who will be introduced, are: Haskell W. Carter, president; W. C. Russell, vice president, and Mrs. E. M. Wilson, secretary.

Invention by McCoy's Makes New Industry

The contrivance, known as a gasoline nozzle guard, is being mass produced by a Fort Worth manufacturing concern, and salesman already are on the road offering the guards to supply jobbers.

Golf Ball Driven Into Paul Fraser's Pocket

A one-in-a-million shot in a golf game at Edinburg recently resulted in a player making a "hole in one," but instead of driving his ball into the cup, the pellet landed in the hip pocket of Paul Fraser, former Hamlin banker, and now a resident of the Rio Grande Valley.

In a story in the Hidalgo County News, Fraser was said to have men when a ball driven by one of them struck him on the hip. Diligent search for the ball failed to reveal its whereabouts until Fraser looked in his hip pocket and found it.

The paper said such a freak shot had never before happened on the local golf course.

Fraser is a brother-in-law of Joe Culbertson of Hamlin.

Lueders Doctor Died of Injuries In Auto Wreck

Dr. Charles W. Williams, 70, Lueders doctor, died in the Stamford Sanitarium Tuesday at 1:30 p. m. from injuries suffered in an automobile accident Monday afternoon.

The accident took place at the intersection of the Stamford and Hamlin highway with the Anson road.

Dr. Williams was the father of L. H. Williams, now of Dallas, and former principal of Hamlin schools. Mrs. Williams, daughter-in-law of the deceased, is a teacher in Hamlin schools.

Funeral services were held at 2:30 Wednesday afternoon in the Lueders Baptist Church. The Rev. Melvin Byrd was in charge of the rites.

Burial was in the Merkel Cemetery, near the grave of his wife who died March 9, 1947. The body lay in state at the Kinney Funeral Home until time for the services.

Dr. Williams, his daughter Mrs. H. L. Deere, and grand-daughter, Frances Deere, were enroute to Lueders from Roby, where they had attended funeral rites for a long-time friend of the physician, when the accident took place.

The car Dr. Williams was driving crashed into a truck driven by Jesse D. Bille Jr., of San Angelo, who sustained minor injuries.

Born in Georgia, he was a graduate of a medical college in Memphis, Tenn. He came to Jones County in 1901 and had practiced at Avoca and Lueders. He lived in Sylvester for several years.

FAITH IS RENEWED

Midland Residents Praise Hamlin People for Kindness After Wreck

Hamlin people were lauded this week in a letter written by Mrs. Frank Paup of Midland, who, with her husband and two babies was in an automobile accident on the Stamford highway near Tuxedo Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Paup was lavish in her praise for the hospitality and unselfishness of Hamlites who helped bring the injured to the hospital, and looked after the personal effects of the family which had been left in the wrecked automobile.

According to Mrs. Euell Carter, who with her daughter, Mary, was driving behind the Paup car when the accident happened, the 1949 Ford in which they were riding was almost completely demolished.

The Paups were returning to their home in Midland from Vernon, Mrs. Carter said, and were passing a truck on the highway when the driver of the truck made a left turn.

Mrs. Mose Jones was said to have been driving the truck.

Mr. and Mrs. Paup and their two children, three and seven years of age suffered severe cuts and bruises, but no serious injuries.

They were brought to the hospital here by Mrs. Carter and her daughter, who later took care of the two children while Mr. and Mrs. Paup were being treated.

The letter from Mrs. Paup follows:

Hamlin May Get One of County Clinics for T. B.

At least one tuberculosis clinic, and possibly two, will be held in Jones County the week of June 18 to 21, it was said at a meeting in Anson last Thursday when the regional director for the tuberculosis association discussed the matter.

Stanley Carmichael, head of a delegation of Hamlin citizens who attended the conference, urged that one of the clinics be scheduled for Hamlin. However, no assurance was given, and final determination will be made known to Carmichael Friday or Saturday.

The clinics are being conducted in various parts of the state as part of the campaign to eradicate tuberculosis. They are without cost to those tested, and are said in many instances to have revealed indications of the disease not before suspected.

Accompanying Carmichael to the meeting last Thursday were: Mrs. E. M. Wilson, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, Mrs. Paul Wick, Joe Culbertson, Elmo Bellah and M. T. York.

Burleson sent the questionnaires to voters throughout the 17th district, and said he will use the information obtained to aid him in voting on the legislation in question.

The questions, which are to be answered either "yes" or "no," follow:

1. Are you for or against the following revisions of the Taft-Hartley Labor Law: (a) The provision which prohibits the closed shop? (b) The provision which prohibits secondary boycotts and strikes? 6. Do you favor the federal government assuming jurisdiction over criminal offenses involving lynching?

7. Do you favor a federal law which would interfere with rights now exercised by individual states to handle segregation problems?

8. Do you favor further reduction in income tax on a basis similar to the reduction made in 1948?

Elenburger Flows 20 Barrels Hour

Extension Scheduled for Discovery Pool by Texas Pacific; Tests Prove Satisfactory

Flowing from the Elenburger at 4,725 feet and total depth of the well is five feet deeper. Casing was cemented, but no drillstem test was taken. However, samples and electric log indicated production.

Dr. Bryant moved the rig to a new north extension try this week and will put down the No. 2 Elenora S. Towne, 1,263 feet from the south and 330 feet from the east line of the sw quarter of section 213 BBB&C survey. Permit is for a depth of 5,000 feet with rotary.

Operators of the well were reported highly satisfied with the results of the tests, and it was reported that the well will be completed for a producer from that depth.

Tests made earlier in the week from the swastika, which was encountered at 3,762-80 feet, recovered only seven barrels per hour from the hole. The swastika zone produced a large per centage of water as well as oil, it was said.

The tests Wednesday night were made from the first 34 feet of the 100-foot dee formation.

Announcement was made early this week that a try for extension of the Elenburger production will be made by Texas Pacific. The company filed intention to drill the No. 1 Port H. Williams, as an offset to the Pardue and Toler. The new location is 330 feet from the north and 1,648 feet from the east line of section 200, block 1 H&TC survey.

Drilling is expected to get underway on the extension within the coming week. The permit is for 6,100 feet in the new hole.

Production tests were underway on the Dr. W. H. Bryant No. 1 Elenora S. Towne in the Round Top area of the Hamlin field this week, but no report of production was available prior to Thursday.

The top of the reef was logged at 6,100 feet.

Trackmen Take Two Places In San Angelo Meet

Hamlin's track team won two places in the invitational track meet held in San Angelo last Saturday, in the face of unusually stiff competition, Jesse Burditt, athletic coach of Hamlin High School, said.

Stapler won third place in the 880-yard race and Asa Goodgame was awarded fourth place in the 440-yard. Other trackmen from Hamlin who participated in the next showed up good, Burditt said.

The track team will be taken to Abilene Saturday of this week to take part in an invitational tournament sponsored by Abilene Christian College.

Most of the teams in the district will enter the meet, and Burditt said this will give Hamlin trackmen an opportunity to evaluate their opponents in the district tournament to be held in Merkel next week.

The coach plans to take seventeen of the track squad to Abilene Saturday.

"We will put the boys into as many invitational meets as possible in order to condition them for the district competition in Merkel," Burditt said.

The trackmen will go to Abilene in a school bus.

He's Easily Understood

A clipping handed The Herald by Mrs. E. M. Wilson, originally published in the Louisville Courier-Journal, is full of common sense, and is easily understood. The article follows:

Speaking recently before the Executive Club of Louisville, Robert Kasmayer, New York analyst and commentator on world events, termed his audience the "nice and polite people," and told them to "go join the CIO and get a political handbook."

Kasmayer declared the business leaders of the community have "abdicated their political position."

In an extremely blunt talk—in which he said "the United States soon will pass the point in the road to socialism from which there is no turning"—he said:

"When you get through with your cocktail, your golf, and your bridge, you don't have time for anything else."

"Remember, the Communist under the bed is not half as dangerous as the dead-head in it."

Kasmayer ridiculed the much-repeated statement that "this is the era of the Common Man."

He declared the man who has made this country great is the "Uncommon Man" who by uncommon work has obtained uncommon benefits for himself and his country.

"Now we are following a political philosophy which wants to level off every man to the lowest, slowest and laziest," he said.

"See, you applaud, but you don't do anything. If we lose the things that are traditionally American we will lose them by default. You can't have rights and no duties."

Kasmayer said the people listening to him had been given better moral guidance by their parents than their children now are receiving.

"You're nice," he said, "but you always rationalize. You have reasons. I never attend a woman's program which doesn't have a speaker on juvenile delinquency. I look at the biddies in the room and I think if they weren't there but at home there wouldn't be any juvenile delinquency."

"You send your children to school and the teacher is afraid to handle them because she is afraid the principal won't back her up. And the principal is afraid of the superintendent and the superintendent is afraid of the trustees and the trustees are afraid of the parents."

"But the parents are scared of the kids. And they are not afraid of man, God, the devil, or the P.T.A."

THE AMERICAN WAY

No, No, Congress!

Jerk that Rug—You'll Pull a Boner

Lack of Housing Caused by Union Use Of 'Featherbedding' Practice in Trades

By Dr. Alfred P. Haake

President Truman has asked Congress to underwrite a program of a million Government-financed low-rent housing units to be built in seven years. He accuses the building industry of putting up too many high-priced houses. And he urges everybody to lower costs: that is, everybody except the people who CAN lower costs if they will. The president does not dare point his finger at them.

Politicians are notorious cowards when it comes to telling the public the truth, especially to those segments of the public which control large blocks of votes.

In Egypt they used to worship cats. In India it was cows. But in the United States we have developed a yen for curtailed production per man per hour. We talk about the "abundant life" and then see to it that it is kept from being abundant. We damn the old fashioned monopolies that used to add a nickle or two here or the re, and we stand in fearsome awe of the modern monopoly that can treble cost of building through its control of workers and the amount of work they do.

The plain reason many people cannot buy houses is that, particularly in the larger cities, the workers who make the materials and who build those houses get about 76 per cent more wages, have curtailed their output about 38 per cent since 1940, and so have lifted the costs about 180 per cent.

Deliberate slowing down, insistence on antiquated methods, restraints on wholesaling of building materials, and building codes that hold open the buyers' pockets while sellers dig out extortionate rates, all contribute to the high prices of buildings.

No one begrudges men higher incomes to meet the increased cost of living and to raise that standard of living for his family. But when we raise the wages without increasing the output we simply make other workers pay more for that product in terms of their own work.

It is reported that in 1941 a bricklayer received $13.68 for an eight hour day and laid 1,000 bricks to earn that money. When I was a boy he received less money and laid 2,000 bricks a day. But, today, he gets $18.96 a day and lays only 540 bricks. He could lay a thousand bricks, or even two thousand (but he lays only 540 in order to "protect the job." At those rates he is charging 3.5 cents to lay a single brick. If he would lay only a thousand bricks, the cost of building would be reduced to 1.9 cents a brick. He has almost doubled his share of the cost of building.

Cement finishers are reported as doing 35 per cent less work per day than before the recent war, plasterers 377 per cent less, painters 40 per cent less, electricians 44 per cent less, and tile setters 50 per cent less.

It is a mixed picture. In some of the smaller places men are doing better than that, but even there the builders have to use materials which are manufactured in high-cost areas. Where the unions have control, as in the larger cities, the prices of most products are higher because of the needlessly high cost of production per unit of output. The men could have the higher wages, and costs could still be reasonable, if they were permitted to do more work per hour for those higher wages per hour.

Why not tell the people the truth? The president could render a vast service if he would add his voice to those which are trying to correct the fallacious idea that we can have more without doing more work. If this is to be a fair deal, it ought to be a fair deal for everybody, and not merely for those who can bring pressure on the president to keep foolish promises made without regard for their consequences.

The way back to prosperity and world restoration is through plain, old-fashioned work. Let's quit fooling ourselves.

True dignity abides with him alone who, in the silent hour of inward thought, can still suspect, and still reverse, himself, in lowliness of heart.

Peck Says That 'Herring' Is Black, And Not Red as Truman Has Claimed

BY GEORGE PECK

The avowals recently made by French, Italian, English and American Communist leaders that in the event of war between their respective countries and Russia, they more evidence that communism is the Soviet Union, is just so much would be traitors and give aid to These brazen, treasonable state-a deadly, soul-destroying ideology. ments confirm what I had to say in my column released June 9, 1946, and which I think will bear repeating here:

"Much has been said and written about comparative standards of living of peoples living under Communist Dictatorship and those living under free Capitalistic Democracy. The evidence proves beyond shadow of doubt that the free citizen in a Capitalistic state enjoys an overwhelmingly superior standard of living to that of his less fortunate brother living in a slave Communist state. That, in itself is enough to condemn Communism as a way of life.

"But there are two things even more important to the individual than material welfare and freedom. One of these is his love of God. Communism denies this great privilege to its adherents—it claims that 'religion is the opiate of the people' and that, therefore, a Communist state must be a Godless state.

"The other thing more important than material welfare is love of country. This, too, Communism denies to the individual—Communism demands of followers that if there is a choice of which is to be served, Communism must come first, even if it means committing the crime of treason against one's own country.

"Names like that of Benedict Arnold have lived on. After the lapse of a century and a half, Arnold's name endures and is synonymous of all that is loathsome in a human being. We Americans consider trea- the greatest of all crimes. During our history there have been cruel, vicious murderers whose names have made the headlines for a short time, and then they have been forgotten. Few of us can remember the name of a murderer of a few years ago. But the fellow who sold out his country a century and a half ago, his name is not forgotten—his crime is considered so despicable that his name is perpetuated. We do not forgive our murders, but we forget them—our traitors we neither forgive nor forget.

"The greatest condemnation of Communism, therefore, is that which its virus enters a man's soul, he willing to betray his country with out the slightest twinge of conscience. Communism destroys his sense of moral values—its poison so warps his mind that he cheerfully commits what we Americans consider the most heinous and awful crimes—treason. In embracing Communism he sells his soul to the Devil—he renounces God and country.

"Yes, all the statistics prove that under Capitalism the common man fares better in a material way than under Communism. But what really reveals Communism is an unwholesome and loathsome thing is that it destroys men's souls. Like as with any other dangerous contagious disease, we, who love America must find the way and courage to repel the insidious invasion by traitor-breeding Communism of this, the world's greatest citadel of spiritual and economic freedom.

Various agencies of the Federal Government are moving to get a law enacted that will put these American traitors where they belong—behind bars. American Communists have served notice that the "herring" is "black," not "red" as previously alleged in high Washington circles.

Steady to Stronger Prices Prevail in Most S'west Farm Produce Markets

Most southwest farm products brought steady to stronger prices during the past week despite weakness in some cattle and vegetable, the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Production and Marketing Administration reports.

Very light offerings of Klommore strawberries held firm at $6.50 per 24 pine crate in week-end trade at Louisiana. Sweet potatoes strengthened under good demand in southern Louisiana as cured U. S. No. 1 Porto Ricans brought $4.50 to $5 per 50 pound crate. Week's trade found beets unchanged in the Lower Grande Valley, but carrots advanced slightly in light demand. Single Pass and Winter Garden districts moved cutleaf spinach for packaging slightly weaker at $1.75 per bushel.

Lighter receipts of livestock at southwest markets found prices generally steady to strong, although lower grade cows and all grade calves sold mostly 50 cents to $1 lower at Fort Worth and San Antonio. Oklahoma City quoted veal calves to $26. But choice heavy calves reached $25 at San Antonio, and $25 at Fort Worth. Good and choice hogs brought steady to 25 cents higher prices in Texas and Oklahoma for the week, and 50 cents higher at Denver. Sows held unchanged in Texas, but gained around 50 cents at Oklahoma and Colorado markets. Good and choice medium weight butcher hogs topped at $21 in Texas, $21.50 at Oklahoma City, and $23 at Denver. Sows ranged from $16 to $17.50 in Texas and Oklahoma, and from $16 to $18 at Denver.

Sheep and lambs scored advances of 50 cents to as much as $1.50 throughout the southwest. Spring lambs arrived in greater numbers, although overall receipts fell below week ago. Choice spring lambs advanced to $27.50 at San Antonio, and $29 at Fort Worth, while pound offerings touched $32 at Oklahoma City. Denver turned good choice lightweight woolled lambs and $1 per hundred pounds.

Yellow corn advanced about a nickel for the week, and wheat, oats and white corn a cent or less. Barley and sorghums lost 1 to 2 cents.

No. 1 hard wheat closed Monday at $2.40 1-4 to $2.46 1-4 in bulk carlots. Based on No. 2 grades, white corn sold around $1.72, yellow corn $1.63-1-2, and barley $1.38 to $1.40. Galveston moved No. 2 white oats at 91 1-4 to 92 cents. No. 2 yellow milo brought $2.58 to $2.63 per 100 lbs. Eggs and poultry sold firm to higher during the past week. Most current receipt eggs brought around 40 cents a dozen. Heavy hens ranged from 32 to 35 cents a pound at Fort Worth, 34 to 36 at Dallas, 36 to 38 at Denver, and 38 to 43 at New Orleans.

Southwest peanuts held firm during the week, and some unusually early planting started in North Texas. Hay and feeds met seasonally slow trade with a weaker undertone. Rice sold steady to slightly lower with short grain varieties showing the decline. Heavy rains throughout most of the southern rice belt delayed planting.

Cotton sold unchanged for the week. Spot middling 15-16 inch closed Monday at 32.40 cents a pound at Dallas and Houston, 32-45 at New Orleans, and 32.55 at Little Rock.

'Paper Work' Reduced for Veterans In School of Training Under G. I.

Veterans training under the GI Bill—as well as their schools and training establishments—will have less paper work to do under a simplified reporting system which goes into effect April 1, Veterans Administration Regional Manager, Robert W. Sisson, said this week.

After that date, VA no longer will require monthly progress reports for veteran trainees in job-training establishments and in schools other than colleges and universities.

Instead reports of conduct and progress will be incorporated in a report of earnings, which veterans now file and which will continue to submit to VA every four months.

As a result of the new procedure, VA Regional offices will process at least 5,000,000 fewer forms a year, with an appreciable savings in clerical work.

Schools below college level after April 1 also will report veterans progress and conduct on the VA report of earnings.

The one page report is simple.

Plainview Woman Celebrates 99th Birthday a Friends Come for Vissit

Mrs. Mose Jones, Sr., who was 99 years of age on March 18, celebrated her birthday on March 20 at the home of a son, M. T. Jones, in the Plainview community in Jones county. Several who could not be with her on Sunday, went by to see her on Friday, her birthday, and on Saturday.

Mrs. Jones was Rebecca Huckabay before her marriage. She was born in Dallas county, Missouri, and came to Texas with the family when she was eight years old. She grew up in Montague county and was married there on June 16, 1869. Later she and her husband lived in Corywell county and in Cross Plains before coming to Jones county in 1900. Mr. Jones died in Anson on May 10, 1938.

Mrs. Jones is looking forward to her 100th birthday. She takes a lively interest in what goes on about here and is in remarkably good health, considering her years. Her favorite pastime is making quilt blocks of string pieces and she would hesitate to tell you how many quilts she has made. She has always lived a busy life with a "houseful of children" who kept things going. She has eight living children, six sons and two daughters. There are also 31 grandchildren, 59 great-grandchildren and 14 great-great-grandchildren.

The sons are: Mont Jones of Cross Plains, S. H. Jones of Spur, Dike of Elkhart, Bob and Wash of Anson and M. T. Jones of the Plainview community; the daughters, Mrs. Laura Tubbs and Mrs. Roy Herndon, both of Anson.

Key of Brazos River Completed SCS Agency

Field work has been completed, three months ahead of schedule, on the Soil Conservation Service flood control survey of the Brazos River watershed, Regional Director Louis P. Merrill of Soil Conservation Service announced this week.

Survey findings are now in the final headquarters in Ft. Worth checking and tabulation, and the final report on the survey is under way, Merrill said. The key is headed by A. H. Bean.

The survey was started last July. It was to show whether the flood that can be expected from a treatment of Agriculture water-control program in aid of flood control would justify the cost. Similar surveys on other watersheds have shown that most of the damage done by floods is to crops and livestock. The aim of the agricultural flood control program is to slow down runoff and waterflow, thereby reducing damage to agriculture and preventing loss of life.

The 45,000-square mile watershed of the Brazos annually produces more than 2,500,000 head of live-750,000 bales of cotton and 100,000 bushels of wheat. About 100,000 acres of bottomland along the river and its tributaries are at risk of overflow.

The report on the Brazos watershed survey has been completed. It will be sent to Washington headquarters for SCS for

Warning Given Against "Food Faddist" With Danger of Impaired Health Seen

Everybody knows a "food faddist," the amateur dietician who composes reducing menus for her friends, relates just how to "feed" a cold or tells you what food to eat to prevent greying hair.

Unfortunately, some times she can do considerable harm if her advice is taken seriously. Among the more dangerous "food prescriptions" of such a person is her "sure cure" for serious illness. She will a tuberculous patient how to cure his illness by diet with the same assurance as if she were telling a child how to tie his shoelaces.

There is no set diet or any one food item which can "cure" tuberculosis, despite some superstitions and false notions about diet of tuberculous patients which still exist.

The basic treatment for tuberculosis is complete bed rest under medical supervision in a sanatorium. The diet of a tuberculous patient in the sanatorium is planned to fit his particular needs. There are no "magic" foods on his menu. His diet is a well balanced one, adequate in caloric value and vitamins which will build his strength and provide "ammunition" for him to fight his disease.

Some of the old theories about the diet of tuberculous patients are outmoded. Once it was believed that the tuberculous patient should drink as many quarts of milk as he could hold. Some people used to claim that great quantities of raw eggs were essential to the patient's cure. We know now that these foods, in the right amounts and at the right times, are important in the patient's diet, but not to the exclusion of other nourishing foods.

At one time, the diet of a tuberculous patient was mainly aimed at "fattening him up." He was stuffed with fattening foods to the exclusion of foods valuable in protein, minerals, and vitamins. Furthermore, too much weight is as inadvisable for the tuberculous patient as it is for anyone else.

In brief, the doctor — not well-meaning friends — is the one who knows best what foods his patient should have, in what quantities, and at what times.

Control of Cutworms By Poison Advocated

Cutworms, that are causing heavy damage to early gardens can be controlled by the use of poison bran, Bill Lehmborg, Jones County agent, said this week.

The mixture recommended for the purpose can be made in the following manner, Lehmborg said: one-fourth pound of sodium Fluosilicate or paris green, five pounds of dry flakey wheat bran and three to four quarts of water.

Mix the poison and bran thoroughly. Then moisten the mixture with water until each flake of bran has been dampened. Prepare this bait in the morning and apply late in the day, so that it will be moist and attractive when the cutworms begin to feed in the evening. Scatter the bait lightly and evenly on the soil surface of the garden or around the bases of plants that have been set out. Repeat the application if necessary.
